NO CLEW FOUND IN CAIRO MURDER ON PADUCAH CASE

Slayer of James White Supposed to Be Hiding In The Woods.

Frank McManus Mystery Remains Unsolved.

A CHICAGO LAKE MYSTERY

Although the authorities for a while Indians around Cairo and Paducah are searching for him, James M. White, of Cairo, alleged slayer of Fred Otterson, of Paducah, is still at large. He is believed to be in hiding in the woods. Otterson was shot and killed in Cairo Saturday night after White is alleged to have knocked him down with the butt-end of his revolver. Otterson was a brother of Mrs. Elmer Sutherland, of 1911 Lincoln avenue, this city.

McManus Case.
Not a sign of clew in the murder mystery of Frank McManus, which took place on the night of September 29, at his home, 811 South Sixth street, has been run across and the police are still groping about in darkness. In spite of a court of inquiry held last week the police have arrived no nearer a solution than at the start.

Family Says It Is Murder.
Chicago, Oct. 11.—The body of Walter E. Coles, president of the Keefe-Cole's Printing company, was found floating in the lake today. He had been missing since October 8.
A great gash was found on Coles' head and his eyes were dislodged.
The family believe Coles was buried in the lake and murdered. Police believe these marks were made by rocks along the shore.

PERSONAL WORKERS ARE TOLD ABOUT CHILDREN

The Rev. W. S. Jacoby's lecture to his class of personal workers this morning at the auditorium rink was a continuation of his subject of yesterday, "How To Deal with Children." This morning he showed that Jesus came to seek and save the lost and when one comes to Him, He forgives all of the past; when we receive Him, we become His children.
Mr. Jacoby also told how to teach children to meet temptation as well as grown people and showed how God will take care of them. He told that the children must be fed on the word of God to grow up as Christians.
Prayer, he said, was a means of talking with God in order that we can tell Him our wants. He is bound to help us to grow, he said.

CAPTAIN ROGER RETURNS FROM SOLDIERS' REUNION.

of the St. Louis and Tennessee River Packet company, returned home last night after attending the Confederate state reunion at Franklin, Tenn., yesterday. Captain Koger was the only veteran from Paducah to attend the reunion. Over 3,000 people attended and the ceremonies were impressive.

London, Oct. 14.—Already 100 persons are said to have perished in a shipwreck that lined the English and Irish coasts, and the death of many more is expected to swell the number. The storm is increasing in violence. Numerous fishing boats are missing. Big waves have been driven ashore.

Situation At I. C. Shops Unchanged

Few developments in the Illinois Central shop situation were manifest today to indicate either a restoration of peace or a continuation of the deadlock. Superintendent of Machinery Bell this afternoon invited a committee from all the unions, excepting the Carmen to call at his car to talk over something besides the question of grievances. The union men say this is not a strike, but all, acting concertedly as individuals, asserted their right to inform the foremen of their intention to lay off and did so.

The following statements from both sides were given to the press:
The men demand the removal of Quincy Wallace, a car department foreman.

The Railroad's Side.

The following statements were given out to the press by railroad officials:

A. H. Egan, superintendent of the Louisville division:

The entire matter was never brought to my attention by those holding their alleged grievances. It appears that Leonard Phelps secured permission to be absent from his duties for two or three days, desiring to attend a Baptist church meeting at Kevil during that time. The general foreman asked his assistant who should receive the temporary position and he was given two names—one of these was F. A. Milliken, the other an older man in the service, but who refused the offer as soon as it was tendered to him, declaring that he was already receiving a higher wage rate than that accorded by the temporary position. Of course, Milliken then received the position and the car men, inspired by an alleged grievance against Milliken, waited on the general foreman and told him that Milliken was not entitled to the position, and asked that it be given to a man named Moore. Moore was also receiving more than the temporary position would pay and the master mechanic refused to make the change, principally because of the temporary character of the vacancy.

The men then, without taking the matter up in the proper way, left their work. The other trades to sus-tain their fellows, also left their work—all of which was in violation of the various contracts we have with the existing local unions.

This is the gist of the entire disturbance, and it is very apparent that the error has been on the part of the employees. The company always has and will continue to select its officers, but in so doing it will select them from the ranks, and never question whether or not the man belongs to any union organization."

H. W. Bell, of Chicago, superintendent of machinery:

The stoppage of work by the workmen employed in the Illinois Central shop at this place was ill timed and premature. The Illinois Central is recognized all over the country as one of the most liberal corporations in its dealings with its employees. It has contracts with all classes of its skilled labor and has the reputation of living up faithfully to these contracts. The company recognizes the fact that the contract is a protection for its interests and

EPISCOPAL NAME DEBATE SUBJECT

ALL EUROPEAN PRO-TESTANTS.

Cincinnati, Oct. 14.—The question of changing the name of the Protestant Episcopal church was debated again today by the Episcopal house of deputies at the convention. The debate revolved the purpose as being to place the Episcopal church in position to gather all others in European countries against the Roman Catholic church.

GOD'S BLOCKADE OF THE ROAD TO HELL.

Dr. Torrey Tells of Means of Redemption. God Has Interposed to Point Men to Cross of Christ.

Another big crowd greeted Dr. Torrey at the Auditorium. Tenth street and Broadway, last night to hear him preach on "Some Blockades God has Placed in the Road to Hell. A mother's love, a mother's prayer, influence of Sunday school teachers, sermons, the cross of Christ, the work of the Holy Spirit, and direct providential interference, were some he discussed with telling effect.

The chorus work continues to improve and Mr. McEwan sang as his solo "Oh, What a Change!"

Dr. Torrey said: "If any man or woman in this audience is lost, it won't be God's fault. God does not wish you to be lost. God longs to have you saved. If God had His way every man and woman in this audience would not only be saved some time, but saved tonight. God is doing everything in His power to bring you men and women to repentence. Of course, He cannot save you if you do not repente. You can have salvation if you want to be saved from sin, but sin and salvation can never go together. There are people who talk about a scheme of salvation whereby a man can continue in sin and yet be saved. It is impossible. Sin is damnation, and if a man will go on everlasting in sin, he will be everlasting lost. But God is doing everything in His power to turn you out of the path of sin and destruction into the path of righteousness and everlasting life. God has filled the path of sin—the path that leads to hell—with obstacles. He has made it hard and bitter. A great many people are saying today 'the Christian life is so has played havoc with the tresses of the fair sex, and druggists everywhere comment on the fact that they are selling large quantities of sage for making the old-fashioned "sage tea," such as was used by our grandmothers for promoting the growth of their hair and restoring its natural color. The demand for this well-known herb for this purpose has been so great that one manufacturer has taken advantage of the fact, and has placed on the market an ideal "sage tea" containing valuable values—ready for dandruff and scalp rashes and irritations. This preparation, which is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Corlant St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

MODERN HAIR DRESSING

hard.' It is not. 'Christ's yoke is easy, and His burden is light.' (Matt. 11, 30.) God tells us in His Word, 'The way of the transgressor is hard.' (Prov. 14, 15.) God has filled it full of obstacles, and you cannot go on it without surmounting one obstacle after another. I am to talk to you tonight about some of the obstacles that God has put in the path of sin and ruin.

"Another obstacle that God has put in the path of sin and ruin is a mother's prayers. Oh, men, in the deepest hardness of our hearts we often trample our mother's teachings under foot, but we find it very hard to get over her prayers. How often at the last moment a man is saved by his mother's prayers. I have in my church in Chicago a man who stood outside the Tabernacle in the old days with a pitcher of beer and as the people came out of the meeting he offered them drink out of that pitcher of beer. He was hard and desperate and wicked. He had a praying mother in Scotland. One night when he went home from the meeting where he had caused trouble, in the middle of the night, in answer to the prayers of his godly mother in Scotland, he was awakened and saved without getting out of bed. He came back to Scotland to see his mother. She had a brother who was a sailor in the China seas and the mother and the saved boy knelt down and prayed for the wandering boy, and that very night while they prayed the Spirit of God came down upon that sailor and he was saved, and afterwards became zealous for the Bible because of its filthy stories, but when I look into their lives I find that their lives are filthy, and that their real objections is not to filthy stories, of which there are none. Stories of sin there are; stories that paint sin in its true colors; stories that make sin hideous—and their objection is not to filthy stories, but because the Bible makes them uneasy in their filthy lives. The Bible makes it hard for you to go on in sin. How often a man has been turned back from the path of sin by a single verse in the Bible. Hundreds of men have been turned out of the path of sin by Rom. vi. 23. 'The wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ, our Lord.' Thousands of men have been turned out of the path of sin by Amos vi. 12, 'Prepare to meet thy God.' Tens of thousands of men have been turned out of the path of sin by John iii. 16, 'For God so loved the world, that he gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him shall not perish, but have everlasting life. And John vi. 37, 'Him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast him out.' It went like an arrow into that man's heart.

"When the meeting was over, he got up and went out, and tried to forget that verse, but he could not. He went to bed, but could not sleep. 'Him that cometh to me, I will in no wise cast him out' kept ringing in his mind. The next day it haunted him at work, and the next and the next, and for days and weeks that verse haunted him, but he was bound not to come to Christ. He sat down, and I began to preach. In my sermon I quoted John vi. 37, 'Him that cometh to me, I will in no wise cast him out.' It went like an arrow into that man's heart. 'He came back to the street where our church stands, walked up and down the sidewalk, stamped his foot, and cursed the text, but he could not get rid of it. Six weeks passed and he came into our prayer meeting, and stood up and said, 'Men and women, I was here six weeks ago and heard your minister preach. I heard the text, John vi. 37, and I have tried to forget it, but it has haunted me night and day. I have walked up and down the sidewalk in front of your church, I have stamped on the sidewalk and cursed the text, but I can't get rid of it. Pray for me.' And we did, and he was saved. One text from God's Word turned him out of the path of sin and ruin.

"The second obstacle that God has put in the path of sin is a mother's holy influence and a mother's teaching. How many hundreds of men and women there are here tonight who are yet Christians, who have tried to be infidels, tried to plunge down into sin, but your mother's holy influence and your mother's Christian teaching won't let you go the way you wish to. Sometimes it is years afterwards that a mother's teachings does its work. We find here in America a young fellow who went West to Colorado in the mining times. He worked in the mines during the day and gambled at night, as so many miners do, but he spent more money gambling than he made in the mines. One night he was at the gaming-table. He had lost his last cent. Then he used some of his employer's money and lost that. He felt he was ruined.

He rose from the gaming-table, went up into the mountains, drew his revolver and held it to his temple, and was about to pull the trigger when a word that his mother had spoken to him years before, came to his mind. 'My son, if you are ever in trouble, think of God.' And there, standing in the moonlight, with a revolver pressed against his temple, and the finger upon the trigger of the revolver, and the re-

Dr. Morrison, a missionary to India—saved by a mother's prayers.

"I stand here tonight a saved man, because when I was rushing headlong in the path of sin and ruin, my mother's prayers arose and I could not get over them. I used to think that nobody had anything to do with my salvation, no living being, for I was awakened in the middle of the night. I had gone to bed with no more thought of becoming a Christian than I had of jumping over the moon. In the middle of the night I jumped out of bed and started to end my miserable life.

but something came upon me and I dropped on my knees, and in the minutes from the time I got out of bed to take my life, I had surrendered to God. I thought no man or woman had anything to do with it, but I found out a woman had—my mother—127 miles away—praying, and while I had gotten over arguments and discussions and church services, and everything else, I could not get over my mother's prayers. Do you know why some of you men are not in hell tonight? Your mother's prayers have kept you out of hell.

Sermons.

Another obstacle is the sermons we hear. How many thousands and thousands of men are turned back from sin to hell by sermons that they hear or read. Sometimes the sermon does its work years afterwards.

MILLIONS are practically born with constipation. And they used intelligent methods at the beginning of life they would have found relief, but they have not. It is a child, gentle remedy free from gripes and bloats, etc. The usual infusions, tea, bad cathartics, They used to sing, "Breakfast, break fast, clean healthy waters, then pills and various other cathartics, and as it is still made matters worse. But there is still hope, even for the seemingly hopeless.

"I remember once, in my first pastorate, I prepared a sermon on the parable of the Ten Virgins. There was one member of my congregation who was very much on my heart—I prayed that this woman might be saved by that sermon. I went and preached that sermon. I fully expected to see her saved by that sermon, but when I gave out the invitation she never gave a sign. I went home and did not know what to make of it.

I said, "I prayed for her conversion by that sermon and fully expected

One of the most harassing of troubles, though fortunately not fatal, is constipation, and millions of people suffer with it from infancy to old age. Its cause may be traced to any one of a dozen different circumstances of diet, environment and even birth.

It is without doubt the best laxative for constipation that you can find, and in every way the best remedy for that headache due to constipation. In the direction of dyspepsia, colic, drawing gas in the stomach, flatulence, biliousness and similar troubles.

The bull snake, a species of pine snake, inhabits the shady pine woods along the Atlantic coast from New Jersey to Florida, but other species are found almost everywhere, except in New England. The bull snake is quite harmless, but is a powerful constrictor. It lays eggs and feeds upon lizards, rodents and eggs. It is about a half foot. Their color is white, with the exception of the head and back, the former being spotted black and the latter brown.

Metz Wilson at The Kentucky.
Al H. Wilson, the German dialect comedian, will bring his latest success, "Metz in Ireland," to The Kentucky Tuesday night. This information will no doubt be interesting news to his many admirers in this city, who never miss the opportunity to witness a Wilson performance. The great secret of Mr. Wilson's success as an actor is that he is natural. He is so interested in the character he assumes that one forgets the individual and sees only "Metz," the rollicking and light-hearted German, who long since sang his way into public favor with his melodious voice. "Metz in Ireland" is an interesting story of the land of the Shamrock. In fact, it contains two stories, one full of the scenic sentiment is said to be elaborate. The first act is a reproduction of Dolan's torgel, a picturesque bit of scenery along the highway between Athlone and Killarney; the second act is an interior view of Klonikilly Castle, while the third act is a moonlight scene, an exterior view of Klonikilly Castle, with its surrounding park and lodge houses.

There could not be a complete Irish play unless it were replete with Celtic legends and fairy lore. This element is aptly introduced in "Metz in Ireland" with the assistance of outside forces of goblin winds, howling birds and incantations to the spirits of the air. An able supporting company is promised, and the stage settings and electrical effects are said to lend additional interest to an otherwise interesting performance.

Al H. (Metz) Wilson. Al H. Wilson, the German dialect comedian, is underlined for an engagement in this city on Tuesday night when he will be seen in Metz Klonikilly in "Metz in Ireland." There will be a complete change of songs provided by the start, noted among which is "My Queen of Dreams," which is creating such a furor with music lovers in general. Men whistle it and women hum it, while dozens buy the song from the man in the lobby as they leave the theater. It is attuned to the sweet spirit of romance contained in the story of the play, and its simple melody clings to the memory as the fragrance of heliotrope hangs in the room that flowers have gladdened.

"Polly of the Circus." Telling, as it does, the story of the old romance of a pretty little circus rider and a village pastor in the Middle West, "Polly of the Circus," which will be presented at the Kentucky Friday night, is a drama as original as it is refreshing and is one of those rare plays that appeal to the "gallerie gods" with the same force as to the occupants of orchestra chairs. Since this play was first produced, hundreds of thousands of persons have been moved from laughter to tears and to sheer joy in following the fortunes of the wistful girl, from which comes the title "Polly of the Circus," and her ministerial admirer. The reproduction of a circus in full swing in the third act is one of the greatest pieces of stage realism. Dainty Miss Ida St. Leon will be seen in the title role. The personnel of the supporting cast is an apparent assurance of a finished and artistic portrayal of the other characters. The scenic production is remarkable for one of such admittedly unusual skill in such matters as Frederic Thompson. The third act setting, where an actual sawdust ring performance with all the incidents and accessories is shown, is especially notable.

"The Girl From Rector's." The Girl from Rector's, which played 300 nights at Weber's Music Hall, New York, holds every record there. Despite the fact the capacity of the house is considered small the receipts during its remarkable run over ran less than $14,000 a week.

Daily Thought.

There is no sanctuary of virtue like home—Edward Everett.

LET REASON PREVAIL.

In no situation does a newspaper find itself more delicately placed than in the one now confronting industrial Paducah—a walkout, that affects the old community—and, in relation to which this paper owes the double duty to the public of keeping it informed in regard to the conditions and at the same time avoiding an aggravation of the situation.It sounds empty to declare The Evening Sun deplores any such a state of affairs; the public may take that for granted. We believe there is not a person in Paducah, who does not fervently hope for a speedy adjustment of any differences that exist at the Illinois Central shops. We do not anticipate any grave consequences; we would not by our very appeal for peace create the impression that the situation is worse than it is.
We simply call upon all parties concerned in the interest of the public welfare to be reasonable, and uninfluenced by pride or malice, and upon all others to abstain from agitating or aggravating conditions.

A PROFOUND OBSERVATION.

The editor of the Benton Tribune-Democrat is an observant man, and he will apply his inductive faculties to his observation, instead of flying irrelevantly off at a tangent; he and The Evening Sun and William Jennings Bryan will redeem this old nation from its evil ways, yet. Even the editor of the Tribune-Democrat may be surprised to see us place ourselves in harness with William Jennings Bryan, but The Sun is big enough to put political differences aside, when a man or a publication is on the right track, and just now William Jennings Bryan is travelling over the country in the interest of the one reform, which is the essential condition precedent to all effective reforms. But more of that later.The particular observation of the editor of the Benton Tribune-Democrat to which we direct attention is:The overthrowing of a political boss means that an other will rise on the ruins of the former, to eventually take his place. But it is a good idea to overthrow them, notwithstanding the fact that another will arise to take his place, from the fact that the new one is less skilled in the art than an old one. The best remedy for this evil is for everybody to quit man worship.No more profound observation has ever been made than that "the overthrowing of a political boss means that another will rise on the ruins of the former,
and eventually take his place"; but the Tribune-Democrat's remedy for this, to "quit man worship", is as irrelevant as the diagnosis is accurate; because the boss is more often the character of man, who is heartily detested in the community over which he rules.An instance in point—of the observation, not the conclusion—was the Republican state convention in New York, where the "Old Guard" was dethroned by Theodore Roosevelt, who named the candidate, dictated the platform and selected the state chairman. That makes Mr.
Roosevelt the boss, and a good boss, indeed, he is; but we don't want a boss, good or bad. Mr. Roosevelt's reign will be beneficent. We have no fear of corruption where he is concerned; but when he gives up control, some other boss, probably less concerned about the public weal will take possession of the machine.Barnes has resigned from the state committee, and those reformers and insurgents, who sum up all political goodness in the person of Theodore Roosevelt are jubilant; but as the editor of the Benton Tribune-Democrat profoundly observes, "the overthrowing of a political boss means that another will rise."If that is so—and it is—let us take our brother editor gently by the hand and lead him into the path of relevancy and progress. If the "overthrowing of one political boss means that another will rise" under our present political system, then there is something wrong with the system. Isn't that quite clear?Then what is the next step? Isn't it to ascertain what is wrong with the system, and when that is ascertained,

TENN. DEMOCRATIC PRESS.

There is no doubt about it, we are going to have a campaign that will make for wisdom and patriotism and an intelligent understanding of the political issues. Of one thing we are sure, however, Bob Taylor is not going to care anything about the facts, he will make any sort of a charge or give expression to any kind of a statement if he thinks it will profit him. And when Bob is called down and his allegations disputed, he will go right on and repeat the same canard the next day.—Columbia Herald.

Bob Taylor's harmonious Hamilton convention thought it improper to declare on the temperance question.
Bob may be able to ride two different directions at the same time, but he'll never feel so well afterwards.—Johnson City Staff.

The control of the next legislature is the real bone of contention in this fight and we see no way of accomplishing that much desired end but by fighting it out under the agreement of supporting Capt. Hooper and A. A.
Enloe. When this battle shall have been fought and won, then the Gazette will be ready to immediately take up the fight for a reunited party and Democratic supremacy in Tennessee.—Marshall Gazette.

We repeat that the situation is not changed and we would as soon vote for Patterson himself as to vote for one of his henchmen.—Athens Post.

Some of Senator Taylor's friends will follow him, but many of those who love him best condemn his look about for the remedy?

But first of all, we must inquire into a man's faith. Does the editor of the Benton Tribune-Democrat believe in a government by the people?
If he does, he must believe that what a majority of the people really want, when they understand it, is about right. Now, there is a great deal of misinformation about the will of the majority; like figures, which cannot be, a seeming majority is misinterpreted. In order for the will of the majority to be expressed, adequate means for the expression of that will must be provided. As long as the majority of good people are divided by party names, and the combined interests of vicious elements form the deciding factor in politics, so long will our institutions fail to accurately record the will of the majority.

That is where our stentor contemporary flies off at a tangent. It is only "hero worship" that has saved us on occasions; because some popular figure has arisen to overthrow the evil boss; but that is not sufficient for independent souls like those of the editor of the Benton Tribune-Democrat.
William Jennings Bryan and ourself. We want conditions under which the popular will may be expressed in the party organization without the intervention of the "good boss."

How can this be done?

By a popular primary conducted by the state, in which both parties participate, with their tickets printed on one ballot, so that no one knows in which primary any man votes. In that way the best citizens will hold the balance of power, casting their influence just as the vicious do now, in whichever contest the moral issues are most pronounced. At these primaries committeemen would be selected, and thus the whole machinery of party government would be placed directly in the hands of the people. The best remedy for this
man worship.

But hero worship, or "man worship", as our Benton friend puts it, would not cease. It would be more pronounced. The hero of the people would always win; but he would be a hero only as long as he remained the people's champion. This would stimulate all men seeking preferment in public life to be champions of the people. Would it not, Benton?

It's the boss, who is not a hero, to whom we object. Leaders we shall always have.

For the rest the initiative and referendum and the recall will suffice.
Join us, Benton, in demanding a restoration of the power of the people; in making parties and government responsible to the will of the majority. You have remarked the condition, help us apply the remedy.

It is said that John Denton, one of the county's most successful farmers, chase of an automobile. There are many farmers in Carlisle county who can well afford to own automobiles, and we can see where they are right in enjoying life while going through this vale of tears.—Carlisle News.

TOLD SECRET TO HER FRIENDS

Sod Experience of Miss Brown, in Hanging Limb, Before She Knew Cardui.

Hanging Limb, Tenn.—"I told all my friends," says Miss Ethel Brown, of this place, "that my present good health was entirely due to Cardui. For several years, I had suffered with troubles peculiar to women—long, weakening spells, nervousness, etc., and my condition was often very serious."

Since I took Cardui, I feel better in every way, and grow stronger daily."

The strength-giving properties of Cardui, the woman's tonic, are due to powerful drugs, but to its gentle, natural, building action. Cardui is not a stimulant, but a mild and effective tonic for women, that through 50 years of success has proven its merit.

Being prepared principally from the extracted medicinal principle of a plant grown in Europe, imported direct by the manufacturers, and combined with other ingredients to form a scientific remedy, Cardui brings results, different from other medicines.

If you suffer from any form of womanly weakness or irregularity, try Cardui. It helps nature to perform a cure in a natural, easy manner.

In every community, there are those who have been benefited by Cardui.

Have you tried it? If not, do so, today.

PUBLIC OFFICIALS WILL DELIVER LECTURES.

W. H. Leavitt Talked to Them About the Public Schools of France.

The monthly meeting of the public school teachers was held this afternoon at the high school building. At 2 o'clock Mr. W. H. Leavitt, the distinguished American artist delivered an address to the teachers on "Schools of France." After the address, which was a clear discussion of the schools of France, the regular work was taken up. This year the teachers are studying "The Community and the Citizen," which is a book relating to civil government.

Mr. Walker, master mechanic, refused to meet the general committee and stated that he had orders not to meet them; that if they wanted to do business that they would have to do it with Mr. Bell. The general committee notified Mr. Walker to get Mr. Bell as soon as possible and that he could not get him too quick for the company interest. So the general committee held a meeting on Thursday morning at the shop and decided that the men should lay off until the company saw fit to recognize this general committee and since that time this general committee has been ready and willing to meet with the local as well as higher officials but have not been able to do so.

"The officials have offered to meet each committee separately but this whole matter has been placed in the hands of the general committee, the different organizations have left the matter entirely in the hands of the general committee for adjustment. It seems that the railroad company does not want to recognize this general committee; therefore there is a hold in negotiations. As for the men violating their contracts, there has been no violation on the part of the men. As for the sanction of the grand lodge officers, they have all, as far as have been heard from, sanctioned the move of the men.

"This general committee is composed of five representatives of the general trades: Ed. Franke, charwoman; H. S. Kelley, temporary secretary-treasurer; B. B. Cleary, vice-chairman. This board is composed of five members of each regular shop trade, and the general grievance committee is composed of Ed Franke, of the boilermakers; H. S. Kelley, of the machinists; B. B. Cleary, of blacksmiths; and J. F. McCrory, of the carmen."

The Railroad's Side.

The interests of the great body of men whom it employs. These contracts are made between the general officers of the company and the committees representing the different crafts, and require the workmen to appeal their grievances to the general officers for final adjustment before stopping work.

"In this stoppage of work the general officers have not been appealed to for a ruling on the points of difference between the local management and the workmen; therefore, there has been a violation and ignoring of these contracts by the workmen in failing to appeal to the general officers for final decision.

"We have great faith in the good judgment of the large body of men who are involved in this trouble and we are sure that when they reflect on the course they have taken and their other judgment prevails, that they will return to work."

J. M. Barrowdale, of Chenglo, superintendent of the car department:

"The Illinois Central railroad has not yet received any notification from the men who walked out yesterday morning advising it just what grievances are held against the road. As an official of the company, I am absolutely unable to ascertain what their demands will be, why the walkout was ordered, or, in fact, any of the details leading up to the disturbance. I am positive, however, that the differences, if any there be, will all be straightened out in a very few hours after a conference of the two factions."

The Men's Side.

warned by the committee of the feelings of the men; but he stated that it did not make any difference, that he could do nothing.

"The committee informed him that all he could do was to report back to the men and it would not be responsible for the action of the men. They reported back and the men called a meeting on Goebel avenue, off the company's premises, and decided that they would all lay off and hold a meeting at 2 o'clock at the Central Labor hall, and there by unanimous action they decided not to work until Q. P. Whillace and F. A. Milliken were removed from official capacity.

A Striking Illustration.

A Scottish parson, remarkable for the simple force of his pugnacious style, was enlarging one Sunday upon the text, "Except ye repent ye shall all likewise perish."

"Yea, my friends," urged he with solemn earnestness, "unless ye repent ye shall as surely perish," deftly placing his left forefinger on the wing of a bluebottle that had just alighted upon the reading desk while the parson's right hand was uplifted—"just as surely, as, my friends, I flatten this poor fly."

But before the threatened blow descended the fly got away, whereupon the minister further "improved the occasion" with ready wit, exclaiming: "There's a chance for ye yet, my friends!"—London Scrap.

SWEENEY IS OUT OF SERIES.

New York, Oct. 14.—The New York Nationals overcame their opponents, the American team, in the first game of the post-season series, winning a tense contest by a score of 5 to 1. In a pitchers' duel between Christy Mathewson and Russell Ford, who has been the sensation of the American League this season, the Giant hurler overshadowed his rival. Mathewson struck out 14 men, which equals the American League record and excels the National League record for this season. The present series is the first ever held between the two New York clubs, and thousands of partisans of the teams witnessed the contest. Mathewson's box art has rarely ever been equalled in any game in New York.

Matty Good in Pinches.

When the Americans perched on the bases and threatened to score Mathewson was at his best, fanning the hatmen with a high, fast ball and a fadenway. Ford pitched scintillating ball, striking out nine of the Nationals and holding them well in hand with his so-called "mystery ball," until the Americans' defense weakened in the eighth inning and four runners on hard hitting crossed the home plate. Ford struck out Snodgrass, the National's heavy hit, every time he came to the plate.

The Brush stadium creaked with thousands of admirers of both teams, and though partisanship was strong the best of feeling prevailed.

Merkle Boots Two.

The Americans were the first to break into the run column. Knight singed to left and, when caught off first, ran to third base on an overthrow by Merkle to left field. Merkle added to his unfortunate misplay by dropping Sweeney's fly, Knight scoring. Mathewson did not waver in the face of this support, and retired the side on strikes.

The American's runs looked larger and larger as the innings went by for both Ford and Mathewson were pitching masterful ball and it was not until the sixth inning that the Nationals chalked up their first tally. Devore laid down a perfect bunt, stole second and was sacrificed to third, whence he scored on Murray's Texas leaguer.

The defense of the Americans crumpled in the eighth inning, after Mathewson had surged a healthy single into right field. Devore attempted to sacrifice, but Ford misplayed the bunt and the National outfielder was safe.

Austin Makes a Foulze.

Then National admirers were in a frenzy of excitement. No one was out and Doyle laid down a bunt or which Hal Chase made a dazzling play by snapping the ball to Austin who dropped the throw, thus spoiling a chance for a force out. Ford uncorked a wild split ball, which struck Itridwell on the leg, forcing in a run. Devlin, Merkle and Myers followed with sturdy hits, and three more runs came over the plate.

The Americans suffered a hard blow to their post-season hopes when Catcher Sweeney, who was carded to Austin, who was carded to Austin, who dropped the throw, thus spoiling a chance for a force out. says Mrs. Chas. Barclay Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—MRS. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures of female ills as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing female complaints such as indigestion, ulcerated local weaknesses, fibroid tumors, irregularities, pericarditis, palpitation, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life. It costs but little to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and as Mrs. Hale says, it's "worth mountains of gold" to suffering women.

Lajoie Given Clean Bill.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Empire Evans, of the American league has submitted a detailed report to President B. T. Johnson regarding the Lajoie incident at St. Louis Sunday.

President Johnson did not make his entire report public, but announced that Empire Evans had given Lajoie an absolutely clean bill of health in relation to Lajoie's performance becoming more heated daily. President Johnson is said to have offered a best solution of the matter for the returning of the automobile prize to the donor of the award.

That, in the league president's opinion, would bury the unpleasantness, but in order to reward the players just as he is, he would have the average declared a tie and have the league present suitable prizes to both Cobb and Lajoie.

If the trouble assumes serious proportions it is quite probable that President Johnson will make an effort to carry through his move.

Spanking Opposes.

New York, Oct. 14.—A. G. Spaulding was indignant when shown a clipping from a Chicago paper which quoted him as saying that he favored the entrance of another major league.

After reading the article he issued a statement, in which he said:

"In a recent issue of a Chicago paper it is made to appear that I am endorsing the organization of a third major league. I cannot conceive of a greater misfortune than could befall the game than to have an attempt made to form a third major league.

"I had read something in the California papers by a western promoter who had tried to organize some sort of a barn-storming tour after the close of the season with a collection of National and American league players, but that the national commission had ruled against such an undertaking.

"Such tours invariably result in financial loss to the promoters, are demoralizing to the players and tend to disgust the public with the game.

"Since my arrival in New York I have learned that an attempt is being made to poison the public mind against the national commission for prohibiting such exhibitions and make it appear that the players' rights are in some way affected, and in a spirit of revenge some ambitious promoter is trying to organize a third major league.

"It were simply a loss of money on the part of the promoters of such a scheme, no one would care; nor would it make much difference if a few misguided players should be caught in the act, but anything that tends to disrupt or disarrange the present splendid system of organized baseball is a detriment to the sport, and should be discouraged by everyone who has the best interests of the game at heart.

"There is no room for a third major league. There are not enough high-class players in the country to man a third league."

Johnson will investigate.

NO MORE CATARRH

Spent $1,000.00
Before Using POSLAM
Cured of Catarrh After Thirty-Seven Years—One Box Did More Good Than All Else.
"Mrs. Dodd suffered with catarrh for thirty seven years," writes Mr.
William P. Dodd, Neva, Ind. "I spent over $3,000.00 in doctoring it, got me to try poslam. She is now cured. One fifty-cent box did her more good than all the doctoring I had done."

There is no doubt about the efficacy of poslam. It is probably the most widely recommended remedy available to the public, solely because of its remarkable power to heal affected skin, curing all catarrhs, nose, letter, sebaceous, etc.
Bacterial infections are prone to spread are checked at once. Itching stings and minor troubles such as pimplies, undue redness, rashes, complexion blemishes, etc., go quickly when poslam is applied. Whenever the skin ails poslam should be used first before anything less certain is experimented with.

Poslam is sold in two sizes (trial, 50 cents; regular jars, $2) by all druggists, particularly Gilbert's and R. W. Walker Co. For free sample tories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, house and have one more drink. I have spent a lot of money in that public house, and I can certainly stand the man off for one drink.

He went in and asked for a drink, and told the man he had no money to pay for it, and the man came around from behind the bar and kicked him into the gutter—You are welcome, men, not so long as you have money.

My friend, looking out of the window, saw the poor wretch picking himself up out of the gutter, and she crossed over and wiped the mud off with her handkerchief, and said, "Mr. Moody" (he was bursting tears). Mr. Moody said, "What is the matter?" "The doctor says I have consumption, and that I must go to California at once or die." You
you have money.

One day this young man came into Mr. Moody's shop (it was before Mr.
Moody went out of business) and said, "Mr. Moody" (he was bursting tears). Mr. Moody said, "What
have consumption, and that I must
you have money.

One day he came to my friend and said: "I have some friends down at a hotel; I want you to meet them." She went to the hotel and he introduced her to a fine-looking, middle-aged woman and a handsome-looking young lady, and said:

"This is my wife and daughter—beautiful, refined, cultured ladies whom he had left and gone down to the verge of hell; but a kind act and a word of invitation to Christ had turned him out of the path to perdition, when he was within one step of hell, into the path that leads to glory. Oh, let us go as the missionaries of God's grace and bring the path of sinful men and women with kindly deeds and thus turn them to righteons-ness and to God."

Holy Spirit's Work.

"Another obstacle that God puts in the path of sin and sin is the Holy Spirit of his work. How strange it is? You and I have experienced it. When we were right in the midst of a carnal life—an unrest, a dissatisfaction with the life we were living, a longing for something better, memories of home, church, mother, little and God.

"A man one night was playing cards at a table. He was a man wholly given up to the world, belonged to one of the noble families but not a nobleman himself, and connected with members of the nobility—a wild, reckless English spendthrift, and there he sat playing cards, and suddenly the voice of God's spirit spoke in his heart.

"He thought he was about to die.
He sprang up from the table, threw down his cards, rushed to his room. There was someone in the room. He thought at first it won't do to pray while the maid is in the room. But he was so much in earnest that he did not mind anybody. He dropped down by his bed and called upon God for Christ's sake to forgive his sins.

"That man was Brownlow North, who did such a great work for God in Ireland and Scotland in '59 and '60. Ole, friends, listen. Last night as you were in some den of infamy, there came into your heart a wretchedness, a sense of self-disgust, a longing for something better in calling to a purer life—what was it? God's Spirit. As you sit in this place here tonight (all in this building) there is a stirring in your heart, and you are saying to yourself, 'I wonder if I had better not become a Christian tonight?'

"Almost a determination to stand up as soon as the invitation is given out. What is it? God sending His Spirit to blockade the road to hell.
Listen, men, listen to God's Spirit tonight. Yield; neecep Christ.

Cross of Christ.

"One other obstacle that God has put in the road as a blockade in the path to hell is the cross of Christ.
No man can get very far down the path of sin and ruin until he sees looming before him the cross. On that cross there brings a man, the Son of Man, the Son of God. There you see Him hanging from the nails in His hands and feet, and voice says, 'It was for you.' Oh, men, in the pathway of every man and woman here tonight stands the cross with Christ upon it, and if you go out of this building to continue in sin you will have to go over the cross and over the crucified Son of God.

"I heard of a Godly man who had a worthless son. That son was so anxious to make money that he was determined to go into that infamous business in which there is lots of money, but which no self-respecting man will undertake, the liquor business. Any man who is willing to coin money out of rum selling will coin money out of the tears of broken-hearted wives, out of the groans and sighs of drunkards' sons and daughters, out of the hearts' blood of their fellow men, for this infernal rum-selling is sending thousands of men every year to premature graves. This infernal rum traffic is causing more sorrow, more ruined homes, more wretchedness than perhaps anything else on earth, and every publican, every barman, every barmaid, and every professed Christian that holds stock in breweries or distilleries, every one of you is a party to the crime. You have plenty to say about the rum-seller and the bartender. I would like you to know how he is any worse than you professing Christians who own brewery stocks. No gets the abuse, and you the money, and you will get the eternal damnation unless you get out of the infernal business.
Well, this man so far lost his self-respect that he was going to open a public-house, and his father was ashamed. He pled with him. He said, 'My boy, you bear an honored name which has never been disgraced before. Don't disgrace it by putting it up over a public-house.' But the son was so bent on money-making that he would not listen to his father's voice. The day came to open the public-house.
The father was about the first on hand. He stood outside the door of that public-house, and every man that approached the door he stepped up to him and told him of the drink, warned him of the consequences of entering such a place as that, and, one after another, they turned away. The son looked out of the window to see why he was getting no customers. He saw his father outside turning his customers away. He came outside and said, 'Father, go home. You are ruining my business.' He said, 'I cannot help it, my boy. I won't have my name discredited by this business, and if you are bent on going on with it, I will stand here and warn every man that comes to enter your door.' Finally the son lost his temper. He struck his father. He told you, friends, this rum business takes the humanity out of people—he struck his old father in the face. The father turned to him without the least anger. He said, 'My son, you can strike me if you will, but no man shall enter your public-house unless he goes over my dead body.' Men, listen! No man or woman here tonight will ever enter hell unless by going over the dead body of Jesus Christ. No man or woman here tonight can go out of this place refusing Christ, persisting in sin, without trampling under foot the form of him who was crucified on the cross of Cavalry for you.

Oh, men, God has piled the obstacles so high in his patient love!
Don't try to surmount them tonight. Turn back. Turn out of the path of sin, turn into the path of faith in Jesus Christ. Turn

Varieties of Animals.

In 1830 Gunther made a list of all the known animal species. In 1851 another list was made and the two lists were compared. In 1850 there were about 78,388 species; in 1851 the number had increased to 311,653. And as the minimum yearly increase since then has been 12,000, about 600,000 are known at the present time. This is a large figure, but it is probable that it is insignificant compared with the figures of the species as yet undiscovered. The world of the lower animals is teeming. In 1905 the natu-

DYNAMITE CLEW

TWO MEN STAYED 10 DAYS AT ARGONAUT HOTEL

Knows Sweetheart of one of the Men but Refuses to divulge Her Name.

WOMAN WHO HEARD PLOTTING

San Francisco, Oct. 14.—Further information regarding movements of two of the three suspects who purchased dynamite at Giant, which is believed to have been used in blowing up the Los Angeles Times building, was secured yesterday by Los Angeles detectives now at work in this city. The two men, "James A. Bryce" and "F. A. Perry" are known to have been guests for about ten days at the Argonaut Hotel, here, and it now develops that prior to registering at the Argonaut, Bryce was a lodger at the home of Mrs. D. H. Ingersoll, having secured a room there September 4.

White at that place, according to Mrs. Ingersoll, Perry called on him sometimes as often as three times a day. Loud talk issuing from Bryce's room, said Mr. Ingersoll, led her to believe that the two men were plotting against some one. She says they frequently mentioned dynamite.

Mrs. Ingersoll also stated that she was acquainted with a sweetheart of Bryce's, and it was through this young woman that he happened to go to the Ingersoll house to room. Mrs. Ingersoll refused to divulge the girl's name.

Bryce told Mrs. Ingersoll that he was a printer from Chicago, but that he had just come from Los Angeles, where he had been for two or three days. Perry, the squint-eyed man, is thought to be the man who rented the launch Peerless, in which the dynamite was transported from Giant.

Another Body Recovered.

Los Angeles, Oct. 14.—Buried beneath tons of debris, a man's body was found yesterday morning on the second floor of the Baumhardt Printing company plant, adjoining the wrecked Times building. The find was made while workmen were removing burned paper and rubbish. The body has not yet been identified. This makes 22 known dead in the Times disaster.

BREAK INTO FLORAL HALL AT FAIR GROUNDS.

Small Boys Seen Loitering About Are Believed to be Guilty Ones.

Vandals, who are believed to have been boys, broke into Floral Hall at the West End fair grounds Wednesday and also effected entrance to the office on the west end of the grand stand.

The robbery was discovered yesterday afternoon by Secretary Robert Davis, of the Paducah Fair association, and men will be posted on the grounds to prevent a second visit by the thieves. Entrance of the hall was effected through the top by tearing away the wire screen. Much of the colored bunting used in the decorations was taken and the row left scattered over the hill. The vandals went through the desk and each drawer in the secretary's office, but as there was nothing of value left nothing was taken. Small boys are said to have been seen in the vicinity of the grounds for several days. Their visit has resulted in a good deal of damage being done.
